Press Release

7 April 2003

(for immediate release)

Atypical Pneumonia

In view of the recent outbreak of atypical pneumonia, the Law Society would like to show our concern and warm regards to the residents of the Amoy Garden. From today onwards, we will offer free legal advice via a telephone hotline to the residents at Block E of the Amoy Garden through our Community Relations Committee. It is anticipated that questions may be raised on Employment Ordinance, Landlord and Tenant Ordinance, claims procedures or any other relevant legal issues. Residents of Amoy Garden Block E are invited to contact the Law Society External Affairs Department during the office hours from 9am to 1pm and 2pm to 5pm. Their enquiries will be directed to the solicitors on duty who will contact the residents by phone as soon as possible on the same day.
