ABOUT US

Brummell Tailor & Clothing Company Limited was established in 2016 by Jackie Cheung, whose family was dedicated to bespoke tailoring for high net worth customers and corporates for over 50 years. In the view of the ever changing demand for clothings, Brummell has combined the very best of traditional tailoring techniques with the design sensibilities of modern fashion brand

Brummell is named after the most iconic figure of menswear history - Beau Brummell(1778-1840) - who is remembered for his simple, yet elegant dressing style during Regency England that set the standard for the modern dandy.

With a fundamental belief in style at its heart, Brummell is not just selling clothing products but a lifestyle and an emotional connection to our customers. Our goal is to inherit and promote modern dandyism by combining contemporary design and a true mastery of craftsmanship.

At Brummell, we never compromise on quality so our master tailors pay very much attention to the finest detail down to the last stitch so that everything is masterfully created, addictively flattering, and of the highest quality.

Our Bespoke Process

01

Step 1: Fabric selection

With a goal of delivering the highest quality suits that match the needs of our customers, we offer one of the most finest and comprehensive range of fabrics from top U.K. and Italian mills, ranging from luxurious, exquisite Peruvian Vicuna to intricate, vigorous patterns of Tweed, for our customers to select. If you have no clue about what suits your needs and body shape, our consultants are more than happy to provide you with our professional advice.

02

Step 2: Measurement

Simple though it may seem, it takes years of practice and a wealth of experience to get an accurate measurement because each of you has a unique body type. Our experienced master tailors will be taking dozens of precise measurements that consider your posture, figure, and individual needs, as well as taking notes and photographs. Based on your unique measurements, further recommendations on the fit and cut of the garment will be given you at this stage.

03

Step 3: Pattern drafting & cutting

After an extensive measurement process and taking into account of the customer's unique body features, our tailors will construct a 2-dimensional paper pattern which forms the template to cut fabrics that belong to individual customers. The paper pattern will be stored on file indefinitely for re-ordering purpose and will be adjusted from time to time as necessary, to reflect the customer's changing shape and style preferences.

04

Step 4: Baste fitting

To get a satisfactory fit we require a baste fitting of all of our customers. At this stage, you get to try on your suit for the first time, which is temporarily stitched together with unfinished lapels and only one sleeve basted, making it more versatile for us to make any adjustment to the fit of the garment based on your preferences.

05

Step 5: Final fitting / Delivery

After the baste fitting, our customer's garment will be sent off for a straight finish that will incorporate the necessary adjustments, which takes around 2 weeks time. At this stage, the lining will be filled in, the buttonholes will get finished off, the clothes are to be carefully steam pressed to perfection and all handiwork's will have been inspected repeatedly to ensure a perfect fit for our customers before delivery. There may be further alteration even at this stage as you try on your clothes again.

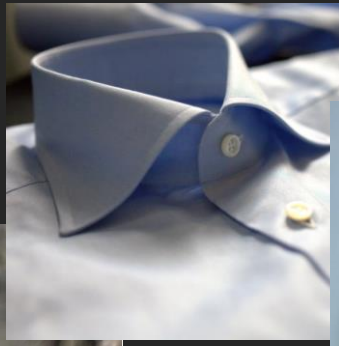

06

Step 6: After-sale services & re-ordering

At Brummell, we guarantee to deliver products with the perfect fit and finish, but our service doesn't end at delivery. With satisfaction guarantee, we promise free alteration within 6 months of purchase and lifetime replacement of any missing button. Based on the finalized product, we will update our customer's paper pattern and store on file together with your measurements in order to make it much easier for you to reorder from
